

Dear Parents and Carers,

Our World Book Day celebrations were an absolute delight! The school buzzed with enthusiasm as our children displayed their fantastic costumes, bringing beloved characters to life. The book swap was a treasure trove of literary adventures and our Crafternoon sparked imaginations, concluding with the memorable invisible string heart activity connecting us all as our Lower Heath family. Thank you for your support with this exciting day and to Mrs Leighton who was the creative drive behind the Crafternoon. It was truly a day where stories danced off the pages igniting that important passion for reading!

The icing on the cake was our children were once again able to showcase their public speaking talents on Radio Shropshire! Well done to Jacob S, Lauren, Jessie, Dorothy, Millie, Seth, Mia S and Imogen! Have a listen to them talk about their favourite books and what inspires their love of reading. Here's the link: (go to 1 hour 12m and 2 hours 12m)

Next week's reminders:

- 11th March: Film Night – booking required
- 13th March: Owl class assembly
- 14th March: Family Treasure / Easter Egg Hunt – just turn up £2 per entry

We are looking for donations of Easter prizes (chocolate, sweets etc) for our Easter Egg Hunt next week and cakes for our refreshments. If you could possibly see your way to donating anything, we would be very grateful. We are hoping the children will be kept busy solving the clues and searching for eggs, allowing parents some time to come together and chat. We will have a small sweets stall for the children too so any donations for this would also be welcomed!

Miss Curry joined us this week as our Pastoral Leader, working at Lower Heath Monday – Thursday and Tilstock on Fridays. If you have any concerns you would like to discuss with Miss Curry, please either drop in for a chat or email her on megan.curry@low.mmat.co.uk.

My name is Megan Curry, and I am the new pastoral lead at Lower Heath.

A bit of background about myself:

I have an undergraduate and postgraduate degree in Psychology. During my studies, I gained various skills and knowledge related to different psychological domains as well as working as an assistant psychologist with children who have experienced complex trauma.

I believe that my academic knowledge and prior experience of working with children who required behavioural and emotional support, will greatly assist me in being able to effectively support your child with anything they may be struggling with.

I will be offering interventions and support to any child that may require additional pastoral aid. I will also be offering workshops for parents on certain topic areas to help support you and your child. Let me know if there is any topic you think I can help you with.

In my spare time, I enjoy sport, particularly football and walking my labrador Huxley, who is in training to become a therapy dog so you may be seeing him at Lower Heath very soon!

I am looking forward to getting to know all the children and families over the coming months. Feel free to contact me anytime. I will endeavour to support you and your child in the best way that I can.
